John Curran and Charles McDonald

Victor Chung, City Councilman—

Bill Sparks, Fire Commissioner—

Roger Ahlenius, Bruce's 5&10—
"This is a swell job, and I like it. I also like Boy's Day because I get out of school. I think we need a general recreation center."

Bob Mangold, Derry's—
"It is the first time I ever got a job on Boy's Day and it sure is swell. What we need is a YMCA."

Tom O'Halloran, Mayor—
"I think being Mayor is fine and Boy's Day gives the boys an idea of what to grow up to. I want to follow aviation. We need a YMCA."

Keith Hicks, Fire Chief—
"This job is ok and so is Boy's Day. We need a YMCA."

DINNER

At the Boy's Day dinner there were 160 boys. A few boys were called on to make speeches. Ty Cobb was also present at the dinner. Boy's Day was a great celebration in Menlo Park. We all like to thank the Lions Club and all the managers of the various business houses.

This event was looked forward to by all the boys and it was a great contribution to the welfare of the future citizens of our city.

Dinner Climaxes Lions Boy's Day

Boys are boys again after their turn to "take over" the town last Monday. For one whole day, they were in their glory, doing just what they had looked forward to for an entire year.

Boy's Day Mayor Tom O'Halloran was in high fettle as were his fellow council members and other civic officials. Yes, it was a day to remember!

Hornbuckle's Bakery and the Golden Churn looked like Boy's Town and the lucky boys who took over for a day fared very well indeed according to the Recorder's two editors for the day, John Curran and Chas. McDonald who "got in" on a handout as they covered the two popular establishments.

The day's program was climaxed by a fine dinner at Bertrand's, where the boys were guests of their sponsors.

"Ty" Cobb, Atherton resident known as one of baseball's "immortals", gave the boys an inspiring talk and the response was rousing. Jim Nealon, sports writer, who heads the new baseball program for local boys, followed with a fine talk. Louis De Matteis also gave a short address.

There were 164 Lions Club members and their guests at the dinner. The day's program was arranged by Ed M. Silva with the assistance of Jack Yount and Harold Lindley. Wallace Ott was chairman of the evening program.

May Day is a world-wide institution but its meanings are different in various corners of the globe. To a lot of local folk, it means FISHING.

The State Department of Natural Resources informs the Recorder that most coastal streams will be almost normal this year and that recent rains will improve San Mateo County trout streams. Incidentally, they say the "stripers" are running up the rivers now—but you can't carry those babies home on a crowded bus, can you?

No Large Scale Grave Openings Says Ferrell

In a statement to the Recorder, District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell has this to say about Menlo Park's recent graveyard robbery.

* * *

"It is not my intention to have a large number of graves in Holy Cross Cemetery opened to determine the extent of molestation on the part of Walter Perry and Cole Madison.

"I am only going to take such action in cases where specific requests have been made from families of persons interred there recently. I feel that I should not place families in the position of going through the mental anguish which exhumation and a second burial would of necessity bring.

"I know that we have sufficient evidence to safeguard society against further acts of these two prisoners, therefore, opening of graves on a large scale cannot serve the ends of justice and can only bring heartaches.

"In the case of Madison I intend to ascertain just what act or acts of his caused a Navy examining board to render him unfit.

"It appears to me that his case opens a new channel of thought which public officials must take cognizance of now. Many mental misfits and degenerates are being brought to light through rigid army and navy examination. They are a detriment to all personnel of the armed forces and, like Madison, can likewise prove a menace to women and children when discharged. Before these men are discharged to civil life the complete reports in their cases should be sent to district attorneys of their home counties. This simple safeguard, states Mr. Ferrell, "may prove the means of saving lives and preventing a repetition of the occurence revealed at Holy Cross cemetery.

"In an effort to secure such cooperation from the proper Army and Navy officials, I have this day written the Attorney General's Office at Sacramento, enlisting support of this plan. I feel sure that the Attorney General will feel as I do in the matter and will willingly cooperate."

Local Woman Heads N.D.G.W

Calla lilies tinted red, white, and blue to carry out a patriotic motif decorated the room in Berkeley's Claremont Hotel when Mrs. Frances Maloney was installed as State President of the Past Presidents' Association of the Native Daughters of the Golden West. The ceremony took place on the evening of April 22nd after a gala day which began in the morning with the 22nd Annual Convention of the Past Presidents' General Assembly of California.

Mrs. Maloney attended the day's festivities with the delegates from San Mateo County Association No. 9. They were: Mrs. Elizabeth Gould of Redwood City, Mrs. Clinton Ohler and Mrs. Catharine Derry of Menlo Park, and Mrs. Edgar Mosher of Palo Alto.

At the morning meeting of the assembly, a report was made on the outstanding work of Association No. 1 in San Francisco. This unit provided a recording machine which was sent to the South Seas. Service men will record their voices, sending the records home to their families.

After a delightful luncheon, an afternoon meeting was held for the purpose of nominating and electing officers.

In the evening, members sat at banquet tables covered with red, white and blue cloths and decorated with patriotic favors in the shape of tanks, planes, and military figurines. After dinner, an entertainment was offered. At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Emily Lawson of Berkeley, installed Mrs. Maloney as president. Wearing a white dinner dress with a corsage of orchids, the new president graciously accepted her office.

City Building Inspector Glunz Quits

Police Chief Kearney to Serve Until Permanent Choice Made

Menlo Park's new council, under the leadership of Mayor Fisher began its regime with vigor and enthusiasm on Tuesday night. Visitors in the City Council Chamber were impressed with the efficient manner in which the meeting was conducted.

Proceedings began with the roll call by Mrs. Becker, city clerk, after which the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. A report from San Mateo County Department of Health and Welfare was read, stating that one case of chicken pox, three cases of measles and two cases of mumps had occurred in Menlo Park.

Mrs. Becker then read a letter of resignation from John B. Glunz,, building inspector of Menlo Park. Mr. Glunz gave ill health as his reason for resigning. A motion was passed, accepting accepting Mr. Glunzs' resignation with regret. Later in the meeting the Council decided to appoint Police Chief Kearny as acting building inspector, to serve until a successor to Mr. Glunz is decided upon.

Councilman Charles Burgess, streets and sidewalks commissioner, reported that he is forming a committee to investigate the street situation and consider the various solutions to the existing problems .

Councilman Wallace Brown, Parks and Recreation Commissioner, reported that one vacancy exists on the park committee and three vacancies will occur in July on the recreation committee. He requested that members to fill these vacancies be selected in June.

Mayor Fisher gave a partial account of the recent meeting of the Southeast San Mateo Youth Council which he attended in company with Councilman Burgess and Neumann. Plans were discussed for the use of existing facilities for recreation by children of the vicinity. Organization of a baseball league for boys is beginning under the leadership of Jimmy Nealon. The would be placed under contract and trophies would be awarded in a strictly major league manner.

The mayor then appointed Councilman Burgess and Grey as members of a finance committee of which he is chairman. He also appointed Accountant Hamilton to assist him in making a study of the financial records of the police department. Later the committee will investigate records of each department in the city government with the idea of improving on present methods used in recording civic affairs.

An organization committee of the Veterans' Employment Council has been appointed in Palo Alto the mayor announced, and Menlo Park is represented on the committee by Joe Kelly. Since the U. S. Employment Service, which is located in Palo Alto, is the nucleus of the organization for this area, Menlo Park is included in the joint committee. It is under consideration whether Menlo Park should take steps to set up a committee of its own, since the finding of suitable employment for veterans is one of the most serious of post-war prblems.

The Ponzini case was re-opened with the reading of a letter from Mrs. Ponzini's lawyer. The Ponzini property, consisting of a ten-apartment building at 1055 Evelyn avenue has been condemned as a nuisance and the owner was given a 30-day period to alter the premises to conform to health, fire, and sanitation standards. A motion was passed by the council directing Dr. Gans to report on the present condition of the property.

A motion was carried that resolutions be passed thanking former Councilmen Bryant, Cutter, and Oram, former City Clerk Kurtz, and John Glunz, building inspector, for their services to the city.

Councilman Lloyd Neumann suggested that the city rent a safe deposit box to be used for storage of bonds and securities belonging to Menlo Park. A motion to this effect was passed.

Councilman Brown called the attention of the Council to the Park on Middle Road which needs discing.

In accordance with a request made on April 11th, City Engineer Edwin H. Smith submitted a report on the improvement of Chestnut street, between Santa Cruz and Menlo avenues. The contemplated work consists of grading, concrete gutter and sidewalk, and pavement consisting of 5-inch waterbound macadam base with a 2-inch asphaltic concrete surface, at the rate of $10.50 per foot of roadway, the total project would cost $4,000. The assessment for each 50-foot interior lot would be $612. In addition to this amount, property owners on Santa Cruz and Menlo avenues for one-half block each way on Chestnut street would be assessed at the rate of 50c per front foot for costs of street intersection. Chestnut is a short street so that the cost of improving it is disproportionately high.

The meeting was enlivened by the presence of the boy "Mayor", Tom O'Halloran from St. Joseph's; Bob Franceschini, also from St. Joseph's and Bill Imholt from Central school. The boys sat at the Council table and a high point in the proceedings came when "Mayor" O'Halloran pinned the gold star of office on the new Police Commissioner, Lloyd Neumann.

The meeting was adjourned until May 9th.

OUR NEW COUNCILMEN

Roy Grey, new Commissioner of Health and Lights, lives on Felton Drive in Felton Gables. The tall councilman has lived within our city limits for four and one-half years, and previously lived in Menlo Oaks. Like most Menlocalites, he commutes to San Francisco, being the comptroller of the Laurence Warehouse company. The other members of the Grey household are, of course, Mrs. Grey, Jacqueline, and Roy, Jr.

Wallace Brown is Menlo's new Park and Recreation Commissioner. With Mrs. Brown, the friendly councilman has lived for the past three years at 1101 Johnson street. A veteran of the last war, Mr. Brown served with the 27th N.Y. Division for 18 months in France. Like practically everyone else, he commutes between home and San Francisco, where he is connected with the Richfield Oil corporation.

Mr. Brown is an ardent gardener, but only when the fish are not biting!

Dinner Given Blood Bankers

Dr. Carl L. Hoag of San Mateo was re-elected president of the San Mateo County Blood Bank for the third consecutive year at th annual meeting of the board of trustees of the county-wide organization held at the Blood Bank in San Mateo on Saturday. U. S. Simonds, Jr., Burlingame labor leader was renamed vice-president and Mrs. Paul J. Hanzlik was returned to the post of executive secretary of the institution. Dr. James F. Rinehart and C. C. Sullivan were again placed on the executive committee.

The annual report, given by Dr. Hoag showed that in the two years operation of the Blood Bank, 7,281 pints of blood have been donated by 4,431 San Mateo County citizens, many gave several times. 4,094 units of blood have been processed into plasma and of this 2,415 units were donated to the Oak Knoll Navy Hospital at Oakland for the use of wounded Navy men returning from the battlefronts, 294 units have been used by peninsula hospitals and 1,236 units are stored in strategic points throughout the county for emergency use in the event of disaster, fire, bombing or other emergency. Location of the frozen plasma is as follows:

Blood Bank, San Mateo...530 units
Borden's Creamery, Burlingame.....443 units
Redwood City .....100 units
South San Francisco..... 52 units
Daly City ..... 74 units
Community Hospital, San Mateo.....86 units

Dried plasma is stored as follows:
Half Moon Bay..... 12 units
Pescadero ..... 12 units
Coast Guard Station, Mills Field.....6 units
Blood Bank, San Mateo....52 units

In addition to the frozen and dried plasma, 1,326 pints of whole blood were used for emergency transfusion in peninsula hospitals and 779 pints of fresh blood were sent to the Oak Knoll Naval Hospital. The combined donation of blood to the navy hospital totals 3,194 pints, which is valued at $25 per pint and represents a donation of $79,800 to the navy. High praise has been received by the organization for its high standards of operation and the excellence of the product and efficiency in handling the precious cargo which is now on regular delivery schedule by official navy station wagons to and from the hospital.

The San Mateo County Blood Bank has also developed the use of the rare "R. H. Negative" group of blood types and is called upon by hospitals throughout the bay area for this service.

Of San Mateo County 6,574 citizens have been typed and their blood type officially recorded.

The Blood Bank was reported to be in sound financial condition and operating more economically and efficiently than any ther blood bank in the bay area.

In honor of the volunteers who have given their time to operate the bank, a dinner will be given on Tuesday evening, May 23rd at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel in San Mateo. The report shows that 95 volunteers have donated 18,114 hours of work and 61 persons have worked continuously since the opening of the bank two years ago. In addition, 36 Red Cross nurses aides have given 1,776 hours of time to the bank.

Dr. L. J. Rosellini of Seattle, was a guest at the meeting to learn details of the operation of the bank. A similar bank is planned for Seattle and the fame of the local institution brought Dr. Rosellini here to study the methods used so successfully.

NEVER TOO YOUNG OR TOO OLD!

They're never too young or too old when it comes to getting an autograph like Ty Cobb's. When the boys lined up at the Boys' Day dinner to get the famous baseball player's signature, both "Mayor" O'Halloran and Mayor Fisher were in prominent positions!

State Guard Gets Armory

Company C of the newly re-organized State Guard has taken over the Roller Rink at the foot of Howard avenue, Burlingame, on a duration lease. The building will be used as an armory, according to an announcement made by Guard officials.

Under the command of Cap. William H. Gilson of Menlo Park, the local Guard unit includes residents of San Mateo county as enlistees and is now fully equipped with regulation Army uniforms.

Hugh Wayne, public relation director for the Guard in the peninsula area, said that volunteers are now being sought for the local organization that meets each Wednesday evening between 8 and 10 o'clock p.m.

The Menlo Park contingent of Company C has its recruiting office at the Central School on El Camino Real. Those interested in becoming a member of the Guard may receive complte information at the school on Wednesday and Friday evenings between 8 and 10 p.m.

All men between the ages of 18 and 64 are eligible to join the Guard which is under Army call for defensive work in the home area only.

County Politics

McNUTT vs. FERRELL

The contest between Judge Maxwell McNutt and District Attorney Gilbert Ferrell for the right to sit on the bench of department one of the Superior Court is getting white hot. At the moment, Ferrell has a smoother functioning campaign organization and has spared no angle to reach the voting public.

McNutt, on the other hand has apparently settled back on past records, firm in the belief that the people will reelect him again, regardless of his opposition. An occasional blast comes from his camp, however, that stirs up considerable commotion for the moment but unless he is more consistent, he faces the acid test in the May 16th election.

GEORGE ALVIS RUNNING STRONG

A new comer in the political game is George J. Alvis, bond broker, who handles security and property bonds, is apparently gaining a strong following in his campaign for Supervisor of the 3rd District. His independence of political and power factions make him a favorite to finish in the primaries.

His lack of political experience makes his campaign harder than those of his three opponents, O'Neil, Edmunds, and Fletcher. O'Neil has served on the County Health Board, while both Edmunds and Fletcher have held public office in Redwood City.

County Executive Frederick Peterson is backing the O'Neil candidacy basing his interest in the Dr. as that "of giving a good public servant" a deserving break.

JOHN W. BRICKER "OHIO'S FAVORITE SON"

Ohio's "favorite son" during the present political campaign for the GOP presidential nomination is Governor John W. Bricker. He has just completed a flying trip down the coast, making stops in San Francisco, San Jose and in Los Angeles. Bricker, quiet and hesitant to commit himself heretofore, is apparently basing his campaign on anti-New Deal oratory, though he is trying to gain the confidence of the labor vote, the New Deal's strongest backers, at the same time. Although he has made some headway, he is trailing most of the GOP hopefuls in the various state primaries.

1944 ELECTION APPRAISED

An appraisal of some of the "Main Factors in the 1944 Election" will be presented by William A. Lydgate, editor of the Gallup Poll, in the Tuesday evening series lecture in the auditorium of the Memorial Hall at Stanford on April 25 at 7:30 p.m.

Sponsored by the Committee on Public exercises, the lecture is open to the public without admission charge.

In his position with the American Institute of Public Opinion, Mr. Lydgate has charge of formulating the questions for the opinion polls. He also edits the commentary and interprets its significance in the bulletins sent to the 125 newspapers subscribing to the service.

ANTELOPE SEASON TO OPEN

There will be a ten day open season on antelope from September 8 to 17 inclusive, in portions of Lassen, Modoc and Shasta counties, as set by the California State Fish and Game Commission at its meeting in Los Angeles on April 14.

In making the announcement of the season, Commissioner W. B. Williams of Alturas said the season was fixed for September because it would give hunters an opportunity also to go after deer while in that section of the state.
The one trip will afford both types of hunting, he pointed out.

Virtually all regulations in effect during previous seasons will hold good during 1944. Preliminary applications must be filed on blanks furnished by the Division of Fish and Game, and mailed to that office in Sacramento, zone 14, 30 days prior to the opening date of the season. These blanks may be obtained from license agents and fish and game wardens. Five hundred names will be drawn from these applications to determine to whom permits are to be issued.

Ed. Note: No explanation was given as to how we can stretch our two gallons of gas from Menlo Park to the hunting grounds and back.

Garden Contest Offers $6,000

California's boys and girls, who are between 14 and 22 and have 2 years' experience in vegetable gardening, are eligible to compete in the $6,000 wartime food production and marketing contest of the National Junior Vegetable Growers' Association, it was announced today.

Julian A. McPhee, state supervisor of agricultural education, joined with Earle Parsons, Jr., 21-year-old Northampton, Mass. president of the association, in inviting both farm and town youth to register for the fourth annual contest immediately. Additional information about the contest may be obtained from vocational training teachers by writing McPhee at California Polytechnic School in San Luis Obispo.

Contestants from this county will compete for a $500 national championship, a Western regional award of $200 or one of three sectional awards of $100 each from a scholarship fund provided the association by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company. In addition two $25 war bonds are offered to other outstanding contestants of the state.

"Our association feels that by encouraging boys and girls to study and utilize more efficient methods of producing and marketing vegetables we are helping conserve manpower in a year in which every pound of food is needed," Parsons said. "In this contest it is not how big a vegetable grower you are, but how good a grower."

Winners of the 1944 contest who will be announced in December, will be based on grades achieved in studies of a five-unit course on production and marketing methods, a report on the contestant's vegetable project and a summary of community activities.

Mr. Eugene Folsom, who is taking care of local Gilbert Ferrell campaigning, informs us that they have been friends for 25 years and helping Mr. Ferrell is like helping his own brother.

AIRCRAFT WARNING HAS NOT BEEN DISCONTINUED

Major Archibald W. Moore, who recently took over the duties of Commanding Officer of the San Francisco Fighter Wing, in a statement today emphasized the importance of continued defense of the West Coast against attack from the air.

Many people, Major Moore said, not only believe that the danger no longer exists but have also decided that army and navy officials are of the same opinion. Such is not the case. The recent inactivation of the IV Fighter Command and the IV Bomber Command as part of the reorganization of the Fourth Air Force does not indicate that the work of these units has been abandoned but rather that it has been shifted to other units. The San Francisco Fighter Wing has been operating and will continue to operate.

In discussing the Aircraft Warning Service, Major Moore stated that in October of last year the filter centers and the ground observer corps were placed on an alert status. Since that time numerous practice alerts have been held so that a maximum standard of efficiency has been maintained in case of an actual raid. In the meantime Wing Headquarters has continued to operate on a 24-hour schedule, employing approximately 600 volunteers who work a 6-hour shift every fifth day.

Complacency, Major Moore said, is one of our greatest enemies. This feeling has perhaps been fostered inadvertently by some of our own press releases. To the average reader news of the inactivation of an army unit means that all operations of that unit have been given up, whereas if it were possible to reveal all the details of the reorganization the reader would realize that what is involved is more in the nature of a shift of responsibility.

Major Moore especially commended the many volunteers of the Aircraft Warning Corps and the Ground Observer Corps for their continued loyalty to duty indicative that they at least realize that enemy action on the West Coast is not yet an impossibility.

In reply refer to
RA 811.504 Mexico/252

My dear Mr. Anderson:

I refer to your statement which appeared in the appendix of the Congressional Record for November 29, 1943 in which you expressed appreciation of the services of the Mexican agricultural workers brought into the United States under the agreement of August 4, 1942 as revised on April 26, 1943.

At the suggestion of the Department a copy of your statement was forwarded to the Mexican Ministry for Foreign Affairs by our Embassy at Mexico City. The following paragraph from the Ministry's acknowledgment of receipt of your statement will no doubt be of interest to you:

"In expressing its warmest thanks for having this important statement brought to its attention, the Ministry for Foreign Affairs begs the Embassy to convey to Mr. Anderson, by whatever means it deems convenient, the satisfaction of this Dependency of the Executive for the terms in which he was good enough to comment on the collaboration of the Mexican agricultural workers. The Ministry also hopes that a similar expression of appreciation could be brought to the attention of Mr. C. J. S. Williamson, of the California Chamber of Commerce."

It will be appreciated if you will inform Mr. Williamson regarding the contents of the above-quoted paragraph.

Sincerely yours,

ORDERS Of The DAY

News of our boys and girls in the Service of the armed forces of the United States.

* * *

It isn't every stepfather who receives such a glowing tribute from his stepson as the following and we think our new Police Commissioner, Lloyd Neumann has a right to be proud. Here's what stepson Tom Kosta writes from camp Custer, Battle Creek, Michigan.

Dearest Dad: I have not written a letter to you since I left dear old California, but since the time permits, here goes.

I suppose congratulations are in order since your election as Menlo Park City Councilman. I knew you would come thro gh with flying colors. It is only in later life that a man reaps the rewards of a full life. I can appreciate the happiness that must be yours for a loyal effort to a group of people who all have faith in you as an individual and a leader. It is my firm conviction that you will serve the community with the same love and interest that you have shown for us and you will be as close to those people as you have been to Frank and me. I am sure they will learn to know you as just a regular fellow.

Well, Dad, I must close now, hoping this letter finds you in the best of health. Love, Tom.

Stepson Frank Kosta furnished his share of happiness and plenty of excitement this week by returning unexpectedly for a month's leave from his duties as a seaman in the Atlantic. Frank expects to spend a month with the Neumanns.

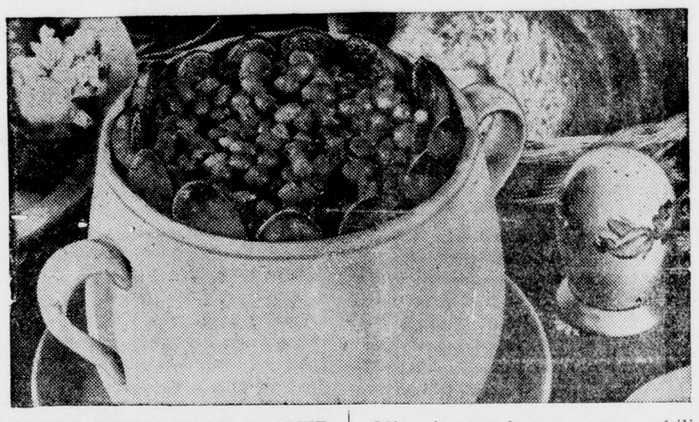
Tips for Wartime Cooks

With summer just around the corner, it's time to think about putting elastic into those red coupons. Outdoor meals with the neighbors, or summer visits from relatives call for meat-saving devices. Here are some delicious and reasonable facsimilies of the "company dinner".

The meat ring pictured is a festive entree for a luncheon or dinner. It requires few points and is an excellent solution to the left-over problem.

The baked bean and weiner casserole makes a hearty and economical main dish for a buffet supper. Served in an attractive earthenware dash, with peasant-type cloth and dishes as background, it is gay and festive.



BAKED BEANS WITH WEINER CROWN

Six weiners.
Six cups baked beans (canned may be used).
Two tablespoons vinegar.
Three tbsp. brown sugar.
Four tbsp. chili sauce.
One teasp. salt.
One large onion, thinly sliced.

Mix vinegar, brown sugar, chili sauce and salt with baked beans. Stand split weiners around a two-quart casserole. Fill casserole with alternate layers of bean mixture and onion slices. Bake in 350 degree oven until weiners are brown and beans and onions are thoroughly cooked. This will serve six and you can double or multiply the recipe for large gatherings.

"MARCH ON BERLIN" BOND SALE DRIVE

The start of a mammoth "March on Berlin" contest is scheduled for citizen's Night, according to Lawrence A. Sanderson, bond sales advisor. The purpose of this contest is to complete the $100,000 quota for this year.

Southern Pacific Betters Service

Fourteen additional passenger cars are being brought here by the Southern Pacific to ease the crowding on San Francisco Peninsula commuter trains, Vice President F. S. McGinnis announced today. The cars have been leased from the Central Railroad of New Jersey and are already on their way west.

"Due to our shortage of equipment we have had to take a number of coaches out of peninsula service for military service," McGinnis explained. "This has resulted in crowding and standing in commuter trains, a situation which commuters have taken with very good grace.

"For some time we have been canvassing the country to obtain coaches from other railroads. The Central of New Jersey coaches will help the peninsula situation for a while at least. Our war load is increasing, and the movement of troops on our lines will undoubtedly grow still larger as the Pacific offensive steps up still more, putting further strain on the railroad. so we can't make any guarantees as to the future, but we will continue to give our customers the best service we can.'

SEQUOIA GIRLS' JINX SCHEDULED FOR SATURDAY

With every girl in Sequoia being invited to bring her mother, the annual Girls' Jinx to be staged Saturday night is expected to bring out a crowd of at least 800, according to the sponsors.

It will be featured by burlesques of various personages and dancing, while for the first time music will be supplied by an all girl orchestra. Judges for the event will be Lt. Catherine Wallace, Lt. Ruth Ringland, and principal A. C. Argo.

TRANSMISSION LINES DELIVER POWER FROM ELEVEN MIGHTY GENERATORS

Serving as a giant conveyor belt, the copper cables of the 250-mile Pit River transmission lines swing down the Sacramento valley to deliver energy of nearly half-million horses to war busy Northern California. Tied into the interconnected power system of this company, Pit power has been one of the main reasons why electricity here has never been rationed nor has it ever failed to meet heavy wartime demand.

The Pit River development was begun by P.G. and E. some twenty years ago with two generators. Today there are seven generators in service day and night. Soon four more giant generators of the new Pit 5 powerhouse will be connected into the Pit transmission lines. These eleven mighty generators are evidence of the steadfast policy of this company to bring the advantages of electric service to the greatest number of people at the lowest possible rates. By constantly improving its service and adding to its supply of electric energy, the P. G. and E. is a dependable and active partner in the upbuilding of California.

From this central office the electric load dispatcher switches power from sixty-five powerhouses through 500 substations for service on over 50,000 miles of power lines.
